Nebraska Extension has an excellent opportunity for a full-time faculty position located in Mead, NE, in Saunders County. This educator’s primary responsibility is to develop and deliver educational programs and resources as an active participant in the Nebraska Water and Integrated Cropping Systems (WICS) Team within a geographic area that includes Saunders, Douglas, and Sarpy Counties in Nebraska. This educator will be stationed at the Eastern Nebraska Research, Extension, and Education Center and expected to collaborate closely with colleagues, state and federal agencies, industry representatives, and crop producers to address opportunities in diverse cropping systems, including crop diagnostics and soil health, using precision agricultural strategies. The focus of this position will contribute to the goals and objectives of the WICS team. Recognizing that diversity within a context of inclusivity enhances creativity, innovation, impact, and a sense of belonging, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR) and Extension are committed to creating learning, research, Extension programming, and work environments that are inclusive of all forms of human diversity. We actively encourage applications from and nominations of individuals from underrepresented groups.
